Writing is a key component of PLAP 4360. It is one of the most important skills for anyone involved at a high level in any political campaign. The art of political image-making is central to this course, and it begins with your ability to present a compelling reason for enrolling in this class. To assist in the evaluation of your application, please attach a concise essay of approximately 500 words that:

- 1) introduces you;
- 2) explains why you should be selected for enrollment in this course (please expand beyond the need for course credit); and how you expect to apply this class to your career; and
- 3) displays your writing abilities.
